

Dr. Dre

Collaborations

Dre's career is inseparable from artist development: Snoop Dogg, Eminem, 50 Cent, Kendrick Lamar, and many others entered or expanded major phases of their careers through his production, mentorship, or executive platform. Each relationship differs, so credits should be attached to specific records rather than generalized.

His most durable collaboration may be with engineers, session musicians, co-producers, and writers whose work makes polished records possible. Admin should preserve detailed credits because the producer-as-auteur story can otherwise erase the team.
