

KRS-One

Origins

As a teenager, Parker left home and spent time in shelters while reading intensely and developing as an MC. That period is central to his self-created image as both street-tested battler and teacher.

At a shelter he met counselor and DJ Scott Sterling, known as Scott La Rock. Their partnership became Boogie Down Productions, combining KRS-One's voice with Scott's musical and organizational support.